Sewage Rental Approved By Warren Boro Council

Sewage rental based on a scale that is about 105 per cent of your current water bill was approved by the Warren borough council as the means of financing the new sewage plant and system when the officials passed the necessary ordinance at their adjourned meeting, Monday night. The vote was 13 to 1, with Pete Juliano, of the Fourth Ward, objecting.

The annual payments to the Warren Borough Sanitary Authority for the rent of the system will be $80,190 a year, to be paid in semi-annual installments, the first of which will come due September 1, 1958. This figure will finance the costs of the plant and relative expenses. It does not cover maintenance and the cost of collecting the sewage rental.

An ordinance was passed which authorizes borough officials to execute an agreement and lease with the Warren Borough Sanitary Authority. This involves the details of the annual payments and the responsibilities of the authority, the trustee, which is the Warren National Bank, and the borough.

A sewer revenue fund will be created to which the rental money will go, and from which the semi-annual payments will be made. From this fund the borough also can pay other expenses of the sewer system.

Named as consulting engineers for the system are the Chester Engineers. Accountants are Swanson, Glass, and Coates.

Council approved a resolution which authorizes boro officials to execute an agreement with the Warren Water Company for billing and collecting the sewer rentals. The cost of this will be $1.83 per customer, annually. With about 4,200 customers, the cost will run around $7,700 a year.

For this the water company will read meters, compute the bills, mail them, make the collections, and turn the funds over to the borough daily.

Bonds for financing the project have been sold. The last of them run out in 1997, though there is little doubt that they will be retired long before that date. The average interest cost is about 4.7. However, this will be reduced by early retirement of many issues.

The policy of initiating sewage rentals before the project is started will be a saving to the community. This money reduces the amount of the bonds required. If such a rental had been started years ago, the cost of the plant would be very small.

Though the state pays about 1.8 per cent of the total cost in annual payments, this is not budgeted in advance. This will amount to about $20,000 a year, and will go into the sewer revenue fund. It could be used to reduce the sewage rental rate, to retire bonds, or help maintain and operate the plant. The amount is not budgeted because it may not always be available, and many times it is late in arriving when the state runs out of funds.

The actual cost of the plant and system is $1,375,000. Warren is borrowing $1,125,000, and the state pays two per cent of this amount annually. The lower figure is possible through the receipt of $250,000 from the federal government.

NEW FEATURE

The problem of keeping in touch with the television programs available to viewers in this fringe area is made extremely difficult because of the necessity of having cables and the confusion resulting from confliction of channels. No paper or magazine provides a schedule which provides the complete answer.

In this week's issue the Observer starts a four-page television and radio section which will tell you at a glance what program is on at any time and where you can tune it in. It serves all of Warren county.

Look for the hour and you will find the programs listed. After the program will be the call letters of the stations which have it. We have chosen this method because of the channel confusion and because stations vary in the many towns and valleys.

In case you do not know the call numbers they are as follows: Buffalo WBEN, WBUF, and WGR, Johnstown WJAC, Erie WSEE and WICU, Altoona WBFG, and Pittsburgh KDKA.

We also carry a column of daily program highlights, a radio and television column covering coming events and sidelights, a radio and television column by John Crosby, and comments on broadcasting in Play Time, Buyers Corner, and other columns.

CUSTOMARY. As is his custom, Don Cummings, of Warren, bagged this big bird on the opening day of turkey season Saturday.

THE LONG HAND of the law reaches into many fields, including the backyards of downtown residents when small pigs go astray where they don't belong. Pranksters apparently thought a Russell farmer's porkers would look better in an urban setting. Two were "lifted" and brought to the city. The law stepped in and pork is back on the farm.

HEADED FOR PAYDIRT is Warren's Lou Mascaro. The junior back skirted right end in the third stanza for the Dragons' lone TD in their 38-9 loss to Smethport before a meager crowd at War Memorial Field Saturday afternoon.

Hottest Thing in Show Business

The Frank Sinatra show on ABC-TV (9 p.m. EDT Fridays) opened with a tight shot of Sinatra's right hand snapping his fingers to a heavy beat. The song was 'Lonesome Road' and a long road it's been since Sinatra's other TV show in 1952 on CBS-TV, opposite Milton Berle, which had virtually no listeners and was altogether a disaster.

Since then, a period which coincided with the very bottom of his career in every respect, Sinatra has bounced back to become the hottest thing in show business and for a very good reason. He is one hell of a performer and his first TV show was a triumph in almost all departments. The first number, for instance, started with the snapping fingers and a melody picked out on one finger. Then the orchestration built and built, brasses and violins pounding the beat into you, Sinatra's voice riding the waves of sound as lightly and surely as a bubble. Then the orchestration diminished and receded and ended on that one-finger piano accompaniment where it started.

It was a tremendous opening and one which Sinatra has wisely tried out in a lot of nightclubs before bringing it to the big time. Sinatra is a singer of songs and a personality, and the first seven minutes of his show were devoted to exhibiting the personality and singing some songs. There were brief, witty, almost wordless introductions of his guests--Bob Hope, Kim Novak and Peggy Lee. Then Sinatra went directly into "I Get a Kick Out of You," framed against a light and a square, which looked like one of the covers of his albums. Not even the scenery was allowed to interfere with the personality and the song.

The interesting thing about this is that it is the sort of approach television had on a lot of shows ten years ago when TV had no money for scenery and chorus lines and the rest of the razz-me-jazz that has cluttered it up since. Even the lighting--simply outlining the star against a lot of blackness--was a throwback to the Neanderthal days of TV, back when a good deal was being written about its intimacy as an art form. We've come full circle.

Sinatra's chief writer has been

Bill Morrow who wrote most of the old Bing Crosby radio shows and is a master of the casual style which suits both singers so well. Casualness was the key throughout. For instance, Bob Hope and Sinatra simply stood there swapping jokes and pretty good jokes. "Isn't it great to step out in front of millions of people knowing that deep down in your heart you're insecure." Or: "I can't wait to see you die in living color"--which from Mr. Hope, an NBC property, amounts to blasphemy.

Then Peggy Lee, another old pro, stepped out and sang a couple of songs, one of which, "He's My Guy," got a little tedious. Sinatra even chanted a commercial for Chesterfield which, unless my ears were playing me tricks, went something like: "Handle it tenderly as you would a child till it gets good and mild," a sort of Carl Sandburg touch to tobacco advertising that was fairly horrifying.

His next guest, Kim Novak, was supposed to be a real special treat for us all and this was billed as her first TV appearance. (Which it wasn't. She was on the big spectacular for the electric companies a year or so ago.) Miss Novak nibbled away at Mr. Sinatra while he tried to sing a song and looked at him soulfully which the best thing and virtually the only thing she does in the acting line.

Later she was the cynosure of a little sketch with Mr. Hope and Mr. Sinatra doing the hard work and Miss Novak looking beautiful. It wasn't a very good sketch but it did succeed in plugging not only "Pal Joey" (a very good picture, by the way) but also Miss Novak's "Jeanne Engels." Picture plugging is, of course, a recognized function of shows of this nature but this one set some sort of record. Besides the two mentioned above, other pictures whose names got bandied around included "The Pride and the Passion;" Hope's latest picture, "Paris Holiday," shot in Paris with Fernandel; "Johnny Concho," and perhaps a few I missed. Miss Lee also managed to toss in a plug for her album and Mr. Sinatra found time to plug his favorite restaurant.

The program ended properly, as it began, with a great show song, "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered," which Sinatra belted right out of the park, a bit of his theme song, "Put Your Dreams Away," and then he took that long, long Durante-kind of exit. It's been done before but it still packs a wallop when the right guy does it.

The general run of Sinatra shows will be half an hour instead of an hour which this one ran. He plans to run the gamut of show business in them--everything up to pole-vaulting and maybe even a little of that.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

PAPERS GOUGE TAXPAYER

It isn't amusing to see much of the press attack government officials for making poor use of public funds while it doesn't hesitate to do likewise. And the same public officials who are taken for the editorial ride and given a poor press readily help the attacking newspaper reap rich profits at the expense of the taxpayers.

We doubt if very many people realize how much they are paying out of their pockets for those thousands of lines which annually appear in the press at the request of various "legal" officials. They are called

They include tax notices, budgets, auditor reports, election notices, ordinances, and many other legal statements that must be published as the law requires. Some must be published three times. Others even four or five times.

It is this kind of advertising that for years made little weeklies that were the sole papers in many counties a very lucrative business. The taxpayer was paying the freight. And no doubt you can find many papers today which have an income very well padded in the annual account by the receipts from these legals. This is especially true where there is only one paper in a county or where one paper is so large that politicians are afraid not to patronize it.

The cost very often is twice as much as display advertising! Some times almost three times as much! Why does the merchant rate a better price than you, the taxpayer?

There is much more composition in a legal ad than there is in the average display ad. And the price should be higher. But not approximately three times higher.

To top that off there are papers which charge for lines not used. If they set a tax sale line the bill for the advertising space includes that line even if it is pulled before the legal is published, and even if the space is not used. Extra is charged for cap letters. And there are some other cute little gimmicks to milk you, the taxpayer, for every dime possible.

Most people don't read these ads, or at the most give them a quick glance. Much of the subject already has been covered in news columns. But the law says they must be published, and the politicians who must submit them to the paper usually are very anxious to scratch the publisher's back. They hope there will be reciprocity at election time. There usually is.

Publishing such legals comes very much under the heading of that public service about which the press so readily boasts on newspaper week, and on a few in between. It probably cannot be expected to publish such troublesome and space-filling copy for nothing, but the least it can do is charge a fair price for the "public service".

This is especially true of the second and third time the legal appears. The composition cost already has been paid and the second and third runs are very lush indeed, requiring no more than placing the type in the form. But the price very often continues at the same rate per line every time the ad is run, which again triples the cost.

Nice business, and out of your pocket, Mr. Taxpayer.

We are not referring to personal legals, which are paid by the client and border on the "reader" classification. In this case the charge amounts to a penalty assessment because most papers feel that the news columns should be saved for news. Usually the heart of personal legals could be contained in a paragraph of news writing. So they pay a high price for the use of new columns for advertising purposes.

Most papers go along with the legal rate because they realize they will be taking a financial hike if they don't do as well as their competitors. There is no advantage to a price cut if it accomplishes no purpose.

But alert officials could rectify this situation very quickly if they were to ask for bids. Unfortunately, the same officials who will quibble over a dollar spent for a worthwhile service readily pay out hundreds, and even thousands, for legals without questioning the cost.

Many cities have licked this one by asking the papers to bid for public printing. This places the low bidders on a contract basis for a specified period, and saves the taxpayers many dollars. However, politicians being what they are, we have seen the low bid turned down and the high bid accepted because of the power of a major paper.

Circulation has nothing to do with this problem. The law says that the legal need be published in a paper or maybe two papers, of general circulation. The low bidder could be the paper of smallest circulation or the two papers of smallest circulation.

The heaviest legal advertising bill in this area is paid out by county officials. But only the commission-ers have attempted to save the taxpayer money by requiring bids, and they have avoided such a policy in some cases. No one, including the commissioners, has asked for an annual bid for all legals. Whatever their legal bill is, we estimate that the taxpayers of this area could be saved twenty-five per cent by requesting bids. If you think it would be worth it, say so to your elected officials. It is their backbone which will have to face up to the publishers, but it is YOUR money which they so easily spend.

BOWMAN KILL HEAVY

The number of deer killed by arrows in the recent archery season probably will total about one thousand. This is away over any previous figure for such a special season.

This is not due to increased proficiency with the bow. Though the archers may be shooting a bit straighter, thanks to the growing popularity of the sport, there are several other major reasons for the increased kill.

The main reason is that for the first time the bowmen were allowed to kill either sex and any size. This in itself would increase the kill no matter what weapon were used. Not only was any deer legal, but many long shots which formerly were allowed to run off into the brush when a set of antlers could not be seen, this year were made by the archers. Some of these paid off.

The weather cooperated nicely, and the number of licensed hunters almost doubled. With twice as many hunting in enjoyable weather, for deer of either sex, the kill naturally jumped. In fact it would not surprise us if the opening day's kill topped any previous season total.

And in case you forgot, in which case we don't know what good it is for us to remind you, the law says your kill must be reported within five days after the end of any season. This means that deer killed by arrows must be reported within five days after the close of the "special" season. Some probably believe they have until the end of the entire hunting season, which is not so, says the Game Commission.

KEEPING YOU HONEST

Any attempt by you to get away with an illegal kill this season will be of interest to men with a badge, other than the game wardens. The fish wardens also are looking for you. This doubling up of the enforcement staff should protect our feathered and furred friends, and add to the fine total.

FARM AREAS NEXT

Those game animals which are most apt to be found in open country, such as the cultivated farm areas, will be yours for the shooting after eight o'clock Saturday morning. They will be legal game until November 30. The final day for the game which became legal last Saturday will be November 23. Rabbits, pheasants, and quail become fair game on this Saturday. All of these are expected to be a little more plentiful than last year. Because of the wet opener we have little to report on the supply of the forest game. Those with whom we have talked come back with little more than that old one about getting nothing but wet. We do not know of one turkey, despite the rain.

This week the shooting conditions have been much better, but of course most hunters have been back at work. The majority of us enjoy little more than Saturdays for our outdoor sport. A few wet ones and the season is ruined.

MISSED $4 PEDESTRIAN

We shouldn't have applied our brakes so readily a few days ago. Down a steep bank and onto the road leaped a reddish grey animal who, startled by our sudden appearance, hesitated and then darted across the highway. We could have nailed him very neatly with a sudden burst of speed, but our immediate reaction as we saw movement on the bank was to apply the brakes, and when we saw what it was we still kept them applied. Reynard went his way to seek out a meal in the thickets.

There were thirteen grey and seventy-six red foxes not so lucky in the county during September. They were caught, or shot, and the killers collected $4 each in bounties. The state also paid $5 each for three great horned owls. This amounted to $371 in bounties for the month. And no one collected a buck for a weasel.

BEWARE BEGGING BEARS

Yellowstone has nothing on Pennsylvania. Our bears also are begging and are holding up traffic to do it. Feeding the animals near dumps and in spots where they have learned to find charitable humans has developed bears who believe the world owes them a hand-out. And when no one shows up they walk into the roadway and bottle things up.

This is dangerous for everyone. Traffic is snarled. People stand on the highway where they don't belong, and the bears will soak up a skinful of lead the first time they try to shove forth their paw for a free meal on November 25.

There is something else a little dangerous about this. It has taught some bears to come to humans. It is better to have them afraid of us. It actually makes it safer for people if the animals tend to keep their distance. A hungry or bad-tempered bear who has learned that people are not dangerous may decide to tear a piece out of some innocent person's hide.

Some of this is occurring in Warren county. And a roadside rest near the Elk county line has worked up a feed line through the amusement of tourists, who have been feeding the bears all summer. With these summer vacationers no longer around the bears are becoming aggressive and cars are being thumbed down with a dew claw.

BAD MOVE

The deer brought down by Melvin M. Wilson, of New Brighton, suffered the fate of a refugee. He had been moved from Presque Isle Park in Erie to state game lands in Warren county last February. The ear tag told the sad story. Life had been much kinder in the Erie neighborhood. Down here death came silently and without warning out of the stillness of nowhere.

KNOW HOW TO LIFT?

Chiropractors are the authority for the statement that most people don't know how to lift a weight, even a light one. Almost thirty per cent of them say most of their patients are people who received their injury while lifting.

Most people try to lift heavy objects with their backs, instead of letting their legs do it. And many people, especially housewives, are injured when they try to lift something that may be quite light, but while they are off balance.

The chiropractors say we have much to learn from watching weightlifters. Falls and traffic accidents are causes listed by other chiropractors as the most common causes.

MAKE IT AND DRINK IT

When it comes to beer, Pennsylvania is right in there pitching the tankard. The state made 7,694,406 barrels of beer and ale last year, which is 77,111 more than in 1955. Only Wisconsin, New York, and New Jersey out-barrelled us.

And we drank most of it, too. We soaked up 7,374,701 barrels. An average of 20.9 gallons per person. Which happens to be 5.2 gallons per person higher than the national average.

It often has been said that if you want good teachers, pay more money. In fact, if you want people to take up teaching, raise the salary level. This is especially true of men who must plan on supporting a family.

Not long ago we heard a tradesman comment that he had read about requests for a teacher salary increase in the Pittsburgh area which would bring the average up to $7,000 a year. If I had known that was going to happen, said he, I would have stayed in school instead of taking up a trade.

And there you have it.

SHOULD MAKE IT

The bonus for Korean veterans on which you will be asked to vote at the November election, probably will be a shoo in. Our mail has been flooded with publicity from most veteran organizations and from public officials in military circles, urging its approval. And we have read no opposition. Adjutant General A. J. Drexel Biddle Jr. adds his to the chorus with the reminder that we have set a precedent by doing this for all other veterans, and in fairness should do the same for the Korean fighting men.

LET'S ARGUE

Robert E. Clark, a chairman of the Democrat county committee, has challenged Harry Shapiro and Assemblyman Allen E. Gibson to meet in Warren for a debate on the Warren State hospital financial situation as related to this year's appropriations. Assemblyman Gibson says they are adequate. Mr. Shapiro, Department of Welfare chief, says they are not. The hospital with its 3,044 patients and 915 employees is a vital part of the state and county economy.

LOST CITIZENS

An effort to reveal what can be done to make valuable citizens out of retarded children and adults will be made Saturday when a workshop will be held in Beaty school, starting at one o'clock. Speakers include several leading authorities in this field who should open the eyes of many parents, potential employers, and the public to what can be, and is being done in other areas.

Paul Bachman, field representative for the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children, will preside at the workshop. Mrs. William F. Hunter, director of the occupational training center and workshop of the Erie Association for Retarded Children, will head the discussion group on Industry. She has established a training center in Erie which is the pilot workshop for Northwestern Pennsylvania.

The leading speaker will be Dr. Joshua Carey, from the Children's Hospital in Buffalo, and a nationally recognized leader in neurology. He will be the clinical discussion leader.

There also will be a workshop on education, with Dr. Gertrude Barber, assistant superintendent of Erie schools, as the leader. In all groups there will be many consultants well known in their fields.

To the general public and to the parents the most startling revelation that may come from this event is the realization that retarded children usually can be helped. Too many are kept in the home where they do not enjoy the benefit of professional aid that might make them able to live nearly normal lives.

This is a tragic loss, both to themselves and to society. Even those who cannot be trained to do special work so that they may take their place in society will find a much more satisfying life through the activities in which they can participate in a workshop.

The Warren Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the Association, and the Saturday workshop, with the theme, "Retarded Children Can Be Helped", is the first project. Anyone should be able to find something of interest.

The least we can accomplish is to bring each individual up to his own fullest capacity as a person.

MEN WANTED. And ladies, too. Membership in the Warren Players is away off normal this year, and casting has been made more difficult. Here is a group which offers much enjoyment and satisfaction to the participants and which can play a major role in the life of our community and of our area.

Right now men are wanted for the Caine Mutiny play for which try-outs are being held in the Woman's Club at 7:30 this evening and Friday evening. Nineteen men will be required to produce this one, and the parts range from six who say nothing to several that offer a challenge to anyone who would like to do a bit of real acting. Bill Hill Jr., the director, will be happy to see you.

PUBLIC EVENTS

A RECITAL sponsored by the Philomel Club and featuring pianist Frank Iogha, will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday, November 10, in Beaty auditorium.

Mr. Iogha is the grandson of Mrs. B. F. Filesi, 409 Laurel st., and nephew of Frank Filesi, sports-caster for Warren radio station WNAE.

Tickets will be available from any Philomel Club member, and details of the concert will be announced later.

THE BEAUX ARTS BALL sponsored by the Warren Players, will be held Saturday, October 26, at the Marconi Outing Club. Music for dancing will be provided by George Johnson from 9 p. m. to 12.

The affair will be in the form of a Halloween party, with prizes awarded for various types of costumes. Masquerading is optional, and the public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Tickets, at $1.50 per person, are available at the United Cigar Store, or by calling 619-M after 5 p. m. Millie Ochs is chairman of the party.

10TH ANNIVERSARY Program of the Warren Boy Choir will be held Saturday, November 2, in Beaty auditorium, starting at 8 p. m. Tickets are now available from the sponsoring Warren Kiwanis Club members, parents of the boys, B & B Smoke Shop, United Cigar, and Mac's News Room.

Proceeds from the tickets, which sell for $1.00, will be used to further the programs of both organizations. As there are a limited number of tickets, the public is urged to obtain them early.

A FORUM ON WORLD PEACE will be conducted at the First Methodist Church, Warren, at 4 p. m. Sunday, November 3. Dr. Charles E. Boss, noted authority on world affairs, will conduct the forum. Dr. Boss is General Secretary for International Affairs of the Board of World Peace of the Methodist Church. He has made several trips around the world in connection with his work, visiting the troubled areas as they arise. Recently he completed a 10,000 mile tour in Russia.

The people of the community are invited to attend this forum which is open to the public.

There will be a variety of games, a special award given, and the usual Halloween refreshments, donuts, cider, and candy, will be sold. The public is invited to attend.

PROFESSIONAL - TYPE WORKSHOP for Gra-Y advisors and assistants will be held at Camp Jeffmore Saturday, October 26, and will give club leaders specific training in club program, group games and songs, service projects, and also a special lecture on the problems, characteristics, needs and foibles, developmental patterns of the 9 to 12 year-old. The workshop will start at 5:30 with an Italian spaghetti supper, and will conclude at 10:30 with a snack and recreational period. Special entertainment has been arranged.

Family Night will be at the Y.M.C.A. this Saturday night starting at 7 o'clock. It will be a Halloween party, and will start with a swim, followed by refreshments and games. Boys must be accompanied by parent or grandparent.

A MASQUERADE PARTY for members and wives of the American Legion will be held at the Legion Home this Saturday, starting at 10 p. m. There will be dancing, and prizes awarded for the various costumes.

TRYOUTS for the second play of the Warren Players, "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial", are being held in the Woman's Club auditorium today (Thursday) and tomorrow (Friday) at 7:30 p. m. Director Bill Hill, Jr., has announced that he will cast for the nineteen male roles which include seven non-speaking parts and a number of others who are on stage for a few minutes to testify, and who do not appear again.

Membership at this time is low and it is urged that anyone interested in becoming a member should join now.

The play will be presented at the Woman's Club on December 5 and 6.

ANNUAL TURKEY SUPPER will be held at the Lottsville Methodist Church this Saturday, October 26. Serving will be from 5 to 7 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the door, $1.50 for adults, and 75 cents for children.

"TO CAMP WE GO" is the program theme chosen for the annual Court of Awards of the Warren-Forest Council of Girl Scouts to be held October 29 at 7:30 p. m. at the high school auditorium. Skits and other program features carrying out the theme will be presented by various Girl Scout groups.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of first class and curved bar pins to those girls throughout the Council who have completed the necessary requirements.

The Court of Awards is open to the public, and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to all interested persons.

ANNUAL HOLIDAY NUT SALE will be conducted by the Warren-Forest Council of Girl Scouts, beginning tomorrow (Friday). These are the same high-quality nuts which have been so popular in previous years - a mixed nut with no peanuts. They sell for 80 cents a half pound, and $1.50 a pound.

Outside Warren Borough, the sale will be conducted as in previous years, with the girls calling on prospective customers to take orders and then making delivery of the nuts before the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

In the borough the girls will take orders from relatives and friends and in gatherings such as P.T.A. meetings, Mother's Clubs, etc., so as not to violate the borough peddling ordinance. Any resident of the borough desiring to order nuts may certainly do so, and may call a Brownie or Girl Scout in his or her neighborhood, or call the Girl Scout Office, phone 1895, and the order will be referred to the nearest troop.

FOR THE MEN

"INDIA, TEN YEARS OF ADVENTURE, 1947-1957" will be the topic by Rev. Donald Spencer, Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, when the Warren Social Science Club meets at the Woman's Club Saturday, November 2, at 8 p. m.

ANNUAL SUPPER MEETING of the Warren County Farmer's Association will be held Monday, October 28, at the White Way Drive-In beginning at 8 p. m. Tickets for the supper are $1.55, and reservations must be in by tomorrow (Friday).

Guest speaker will be Al Saylor, formerly director of Public Affairs for the P.F.A., and now holding the position of Agricultural Economist in the Bureau of Markets of the Pennsylvania Dept. of Agriculture. He will speak on the effectiveness of the general farm organization.

There will be an election of a board of directors and one delegate to the P.F.A. annual meeting.

TEEN TOPICS

SWIMMING PERIODS for the high school Y-Teens will start Tuesday, October 29, from 7 to 8 p. m., and will continue every other Tuesday, with the Beaty Y-Teens swimming on the alternate Tuesdays. Girls who do not have memberships to the Y.M.C.A. will be admitted for 25 cents. This year no spectators will be allowed and only girls with Y-Teen memberships will be permitted to swim.

A COMMUNION-BREAKFAST will be held by members of the Catholic Youth Council Sunday, October 27, beginning with 10 o'clock Mass at Holy Redeemer Church. Following the Mass a breakfast will be served at the K. of C. Hall. Guest speaker will be Rev. Wilfred T. Nash, president of Gannon College. Any C.Y.C. member who has not been contacted about the Communion Breakfast, please notify your religious education instructor immediately, or call 412.

Also on Sunday, October 27, at 1 p. m. on radio station WNAE's Voice of the Community, Perry Como and Loretta Young will be heard in a Catholic Youth Week program.

A Masked Ball will follow the general meeting Monday evening, October 28, when there will be prizes for the two most original and the two funniest Halloween costumes. There also will be dancing to records and doughnuts with cider. The meeting will start at seven.

WARREN HI-Y will meet next Wednesday, October 30, at 7 p. m. A swim and water polo game will follow.

YOUNGSTERS CORNER

OFFICERS OF THE GRA-Y CLUBS can start planning to attend the Gra-Y officers training sleepout which will be held at the Y.M.C.A. November 1, and the morning of November 2. Plans to date include a movie, gym period, swim period, bedtime snack, pillow fight, and story.

Parents of Gra-Y members are welcome to attend to gain insight into the ambitious new Y.M.C.A. Gra-Y program. Any father interested in any phase of the program, or in learning to work with his boy, may make reservations by calling the Y.M.C.A., telephone 100.

FOR THE LADIES

LED IN BATTING. Ed "Wink" Rickerson, Warren, batted .300 with North Platt, Ind., this past season to lead the Class D team.

Working at Sylvania this winter, the 19-year-old first-sacker plans to report for spring training at Florida as a member of the Cleveland Indians farm system.

Area Sports

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

WARREN COUNTY--Youngsville remained unbeaten by downing Port Allegany, 21 to 13. Sheffield took Otto Township, 6 to 0, and Northern Area beat Girard, 12 to 7. Smethport dumped Warren, 38 to 9.

SECTION II -- Meadville walloped Oil City, 34 to 0. Titusville and Corry cancelled their game. Grove City bested Franklin, 21 to 7, in non-league play.

AREA -- Jamestown got by Olean, 7 to 0, New Castle upset Farrell, 14 to 13, and Sharon and Butler played a 13 to 13 tie. St. Marys spanked Johnsonburg, 36 to 14.

SMETHPORT TROUNCES WARREN

Smethport racked up its sixth consecutive win of the season on War Memorial Field Saturday afternoon when they humbled Warren, 38 to 9. The Hubbers were a last minute replacement for the Bradford Owls who were forced to cancel their game with the Dragons because of flu among the Bradford players.

The loss gives the Dragons a dismal 4 losses and 1 tie to show for the season.

The Hubbers pushed over two touchdowns in the first quarter and were never in any real danger from that point on. Three Smethport TD's were set up by Warren fumbles.

Lou Mascaro romped 50 yards in the third quarter for the Dragons' only touchdown of the day. Jerry Martin added the extra point. Warren tallied a safety in the final frame.

The game at Ridgway has been cancelled due to illness in the Elk camp. Efforts are being made to schedule another team, and it may prove to be a home game. If away, it would be a short trip.

BEATY DOWNS JEFFERSON

Beaty's football team blanked Jefferson of Jamestown, 26 to 0, on rain soaked Memorial Field last Thursday to rack up a Chadakoin league win. Ron Seder opened the scoring parade for the winners in the first quarter when he took a 7-yard pass from John Wooster in the end zone. In the second quarter, Pat Hartnett tallied two Beaty TD's, one on a 70 yard jaunt through the Jefferson team and another on a pass interception he returned 30 yards to paydirt. Dave Reynolds plunged into the end zone from 5 yards out in the fourth quarter to end the afternoon's scoring. Hultman and Hartnett racked up Beaty's only two points after touchdown on plunges.

BOXING RETURNS TO WARREN

Amateur boxing returned to Warren last Tuesday night when Joe Fazio presented a two-bout card at the YMCA. In a lightweight scrap, Joe Campagna and Harrison McCool battled for four rounds.

In the big bout of the night, Tom Gerarde and Franklin Long, light-heavies, squared off for five rounds. No decision was rendered in either bout. Joe Fazio was the referee and the announcer was Tony Tomassoni.

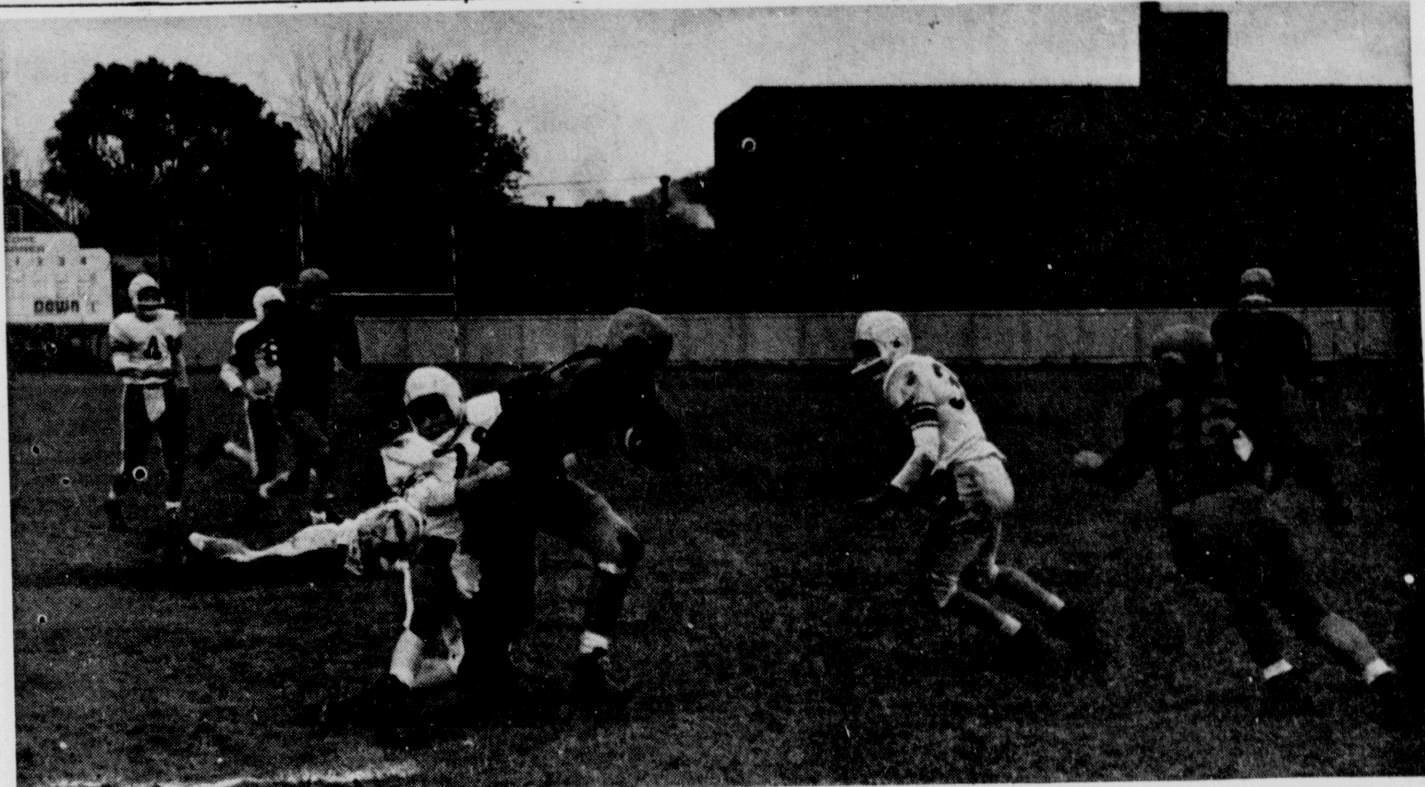

Prior to the boxing matches, Lou Cummings decisioned Harry Brooker, 7 to 3, in a wrestling match. Hal Miller, high school wrestling tutor, officiated.

A large crowd of sports fans filled the balcony and overflowed onto the Y gym floor to watch the amateur bouts.

Campagna and Gerarde will both fight amateur bouts in Franklin on Saturday, November 2.

VOLLEYBALL STARTING

The annual YMCA volleyball program gets underway when spikers move into action on the local court at 5:15 Monday.

MIGHTY CLOSE to the goal line is this Smethport back as he keeps moving despite Warren tacklers. Smethport swamped us, 38 to 9.

OUT OR IN? Jack Suppa runs the tight-rope in the Smethport game as he wings around left end. He made the goal line but the official ruled that he stepped out of bounds. Here his foot wanders over the line, but has not been grounded.

The four-team circuit will play from 5:15 to 6:00 Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, with each team scheduled for twice a week. This program is designed primarily for business men, but anyone out of high school is eligible.

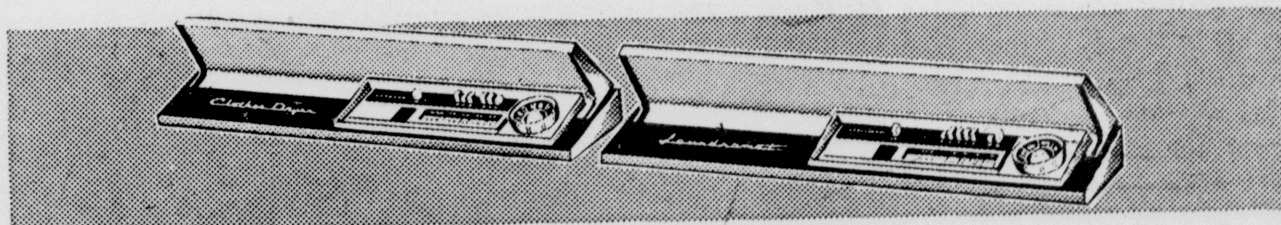

Persons anxious to get into this sport should call the YMCA, 1000.

From
Ervine N. Branch
Justice of the Peace

My work schedule will not permit me to make many personal calls between now and election day, so I take this means of bringing a few facts to your attention. During the 21 months I have been Justice of the Peace and Police Justice for Warren my policy has been:

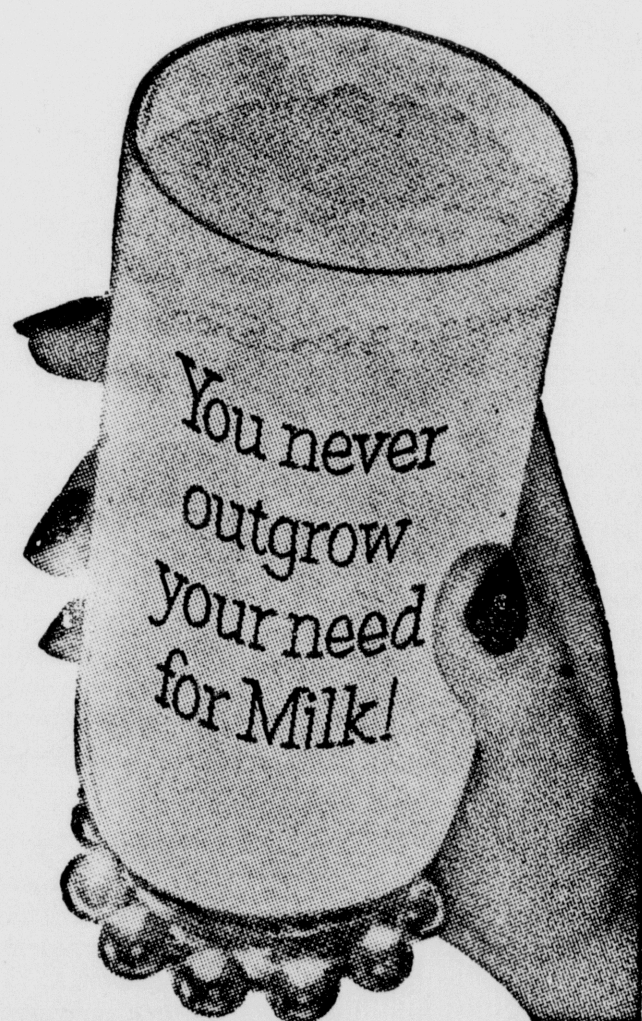

1. To put in a full day's work every day, and to make myself available at such other times, day or night, as my services are needed.
2. To carry out my responsibility to the law and the community with the same degree of COURTESY and JUSTICE for EVERY citizen appearing before me.
3. To make a continuing study of the correct interpretation and application of the laws covering all civil and criminal cases.

If you approve of this policy and want it continued in effect, you will register that approval on November 5 by giving your vote for Justice of the Peace, regardless of your party registration, to YOUNG OR OLD, you never outgrow your need for milk. Remember this—milk is one of nature's most complete foods and the only practical source of the calcium you need for teeth, bones and body functioning. Drink at least three glasses of milk every day. Then you'll be sure you are getting enough for your daily calcium requirement. And say . . . milk tastes good, too, doesn't it?

In Brief

ELECTION DAY is Tuesday, November 5.

The 6,828 registered voters of Warren Borough will have to start putting their thinking caps on with the municipal election less than two weeks away and with the minority Democrats making a stronger bid than ever against the majority GOP party.

A glance over the slate shows incumbent William E. Rice an unopposed Republican for the office of burgess. Gerould M. Ostergard (R) is being bucked by Tom Donnelly (D) for the borough tax collector job. In the justice of peace race it will be incumbent Ervine N. Branch (D) and Martha G. Lawson (R). Mrs. Clara Benson (D) is after a school board post with Republicans W. Scott Calderwood and J. Russell Hanson trying to repeat. Gerald Huber (R) and William Crecraft (D) are seeking the borough auditor job.

In six of the nine wards electing one councilman the Democrats are offering opposition. Incumbent Republicans John Newmaker, Warren E. Miller and Nick Merenick are running unopposed in the first, second and ninth wards respectively. Patrick Sherwood (D) moved out of the fourth ward to become ineligible. Here's how they stack up in the other wards (Republican listed first, Democrat second): third-- J. G. Smith and Tom Conway; fourth-- John Carbon and Art White; fifth-- Karl Timm and Jack Larson; sixth-- Paul Yagge and William F. Schumann; seventh--Richard Meacham and Isadore M. Trager; eighth-- Maurice Emery and Frank Fago.

On the county scene, Rep. Samuel F. Bonavita defeated district attorney Myer Kornreich in the primaries and is unopposed November 5. The same stands for coroner Rep. Ed C. Lowrey who has held the county post since 1926.

A break-down on registration in Warren Borough shows 4,978 Rep. registered, 1,640 Dem., 161 NP, and 49 Pro. The registration total with the other boroughs and townships of the county included is 12,589 Rep., 5,732 Dem., 327 NP, 129 Pro., and 3 Soc.

A NEW WARREN DIRECTORY, which was published by Empire City Directories in Canisteo, N.Y., is now being distributed to advertisers and other buyers.

This will make two directories for the community, as there will also be the usual Polk's Warren City Directory.

The new book was printed in an off-set process and has a special feature in a reverse telephone listing.

83 PER CENT or about $61,000 of the annual Community Chest drive for $74,085 was reported in by Wednesday morning.

The Industrial division has gone over its $41,500 quota and the special gifts section has just about reached its assigned $12,000.

BUT IF YOU HAVEN'T CONTRIBUTED. . .DON'T FORGET TO DO SO!

'FIND THE STRENGTH for Your Life..Worship Together This Week' is the theme of the Jaycee sponsored Go to Church Week program being held in October 21 to 27.

APPOINTMENT. Warren General Hospital has named Ira Kennedy as business manager of the local institution effective this week. Having held a similar position at Meadville and Bradford hospitals, Mr. Kennedy's job will be to supervise the admission, business, credit and collection departments.

DON'T YOU FORGET that Daylight Savings Time ends in Warren at 2 a.m. Sunday, October 27. So set your clock back and catch another hour of sleep.

DIVORCES GRANTED at Warren County Court Tuesday and Wednesday of this week were in the cases of Donald M. Steele vs. Charlotte M. Steele, William T. Prendergast vs. Lillian Jane Prendergast, Charlotte V. Carraher vs. Melvin L. Carraher, Maria B. Atkins vs. Paul E. Atkins.

RATE INCREASE. The Pennsylvania Gas Company is filing with the Public Utility Commission today increased rates of seven tenths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet of gas sold, to become effective on bills rendered for the first full month of service after December 24.

The company states the sole purpose of the climb is to reimburse "Pennsylvania" for the additional cost of gas purchased from United Natural Gas Co. whose new rates became effective October 15.

This increase applies to all classes of customers.

FOUR TRAFFIC ARRESTS in as many days were made by Warren Borough police during the past week, all following accidents.

Charged for driving too fast for conditions after she skidded over the curb and struck a mail box on Crescent pk. near the Hickory street bridge was Nancy Lou Rabe, of Frewsburg, N.Y. The incident occurred about 2:40 a.m. last Thursday and resulted in about $150 damage.

A similar charge was made against Orville Madigan, 922 Market st., Warren, at 5:06 a.m. Friday after he struck the rear of a vehicle operated by Stephen Springer, Waukisha, Wis. The latter had stopped for the railroad crossing on Warren's West Side. Over $200 damage was caused.

The intersection of Second ave. and Market st. provided the scene for the third accident at 12:05 a.m. Saturday. Merle Gages, 34 Water st., went through a stoplight, struck a car driven by Wendell E. Lawson, R. D. 1, Youngsville, and left the scene without identifying himself. He was charged with leaving the scene, a misdemeanor, but no hearing had been conducted as of Wednesday afternoon. Damage amounted to about $250 in this case.

Failure to yield the right of way brought about a charge against Robert L. Raersheid, 112 1/2 Central ave. This mishap took place about 9:15 a.m. Tuesday on Pennsylvania ave., E., where the Warren man made a left turn into the path of an oncoming car driven by Frances Irwin, Sheffield. There was an estimated $750 damage to the vehicles but no one injured.

A WARREN WOMAN, Ioannis D. Douvlos, of 1409 Pennsylvania ave., E., had her vision blocked by a parked truck as she pulled out of a drive near her home about 8:17 a.m. Wednesday and hit the front end of an auto operated by William Sharp, 4 Hammond rd. Police figured damage at $325.

A GOOD DEED didn't pay off for Julius W. Parnell, Erie, at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. He was attempting to pull the car of James P. Ruhlman, 515 W. Fifth ave., Warren, out of a ditch a mile west of Youngsville on Route 6 when another vehicle came down the highway and struck the Erie auto. The moving vehicle, operated by Matthew Woytowicz, R. D. 3, Spartansburg, glanced off the Parnell auto and across the highway.

Considerable damage resulted and Parnell was admitted to Warren General Hospital with a fractured collar bone, and lacerations of the face, head, and chest. The Spartan man required treatment of a possible rib fracture and lacerated chin from a Youngsville physician.

INVESTIGATION of three burglaries last week end is being continued by State Police of the Warren sub station. The one occurred sometime last Saturday night in Sheffield when entry was made to a service station owned by Theresa Jager. About $200 was stolen.

Two camps on York Hill near Youngsville were also burglarized. The owners are Ralph Brown, Erie, and James Steltzer, Pittsburgh. Gas stoves were taken from both camps among other things.

JAMES R. VALONE, well known local shoe merchant, has been notified by the American Contract Bridge league that he has been elected to Life Membership in the league by reason of becoming Life Master No. 1448.

This is the highest rank a player can attain and is awarded when 300 master points have been won. At least 30 of these must be won in national competition or 50 in regional competition.

Mr. Valone is the third member to become a Life Master in the local Ny-Penn unit, the others being Dr. Robert Israel, also of Warren, and Mrs. Marshall Nevins, of Olean, N. Y.

He will be honored at a Ny-Penn party in the Mongolian Room of the Hotel Jamestown, Sunday, November 10. There will be one session game beginning at 2 p. m., and this will be followed by a dinner during which Mr. Valone will be presented with his gold card, emblematic of becoming a Life Master.

ALTERNATE. Eisenhower high school senior, Jeral Angove, has been selected as an alternate candidate for admission to the United States Naval Academy for 1958 and will take preliminary physical examinations. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeral Angove, Akeley.

CHRISTMAS PROJECT. The Warren Kiwanis Club is again promoting the repair and reclaiming of used toys for the benefit of underprivileged children at Christmas time. Firemen are assisting so repairable toys should be left at the Central fire station.

Plastic toys cannot be accepted due to lack of facilities to repair same. If you are unable to take any toys to the fire station, call a member of the Kiwanis club.

INDUCTED into the armed forces at New Cumberland this past Tuesday were Lloyd A. Drake, Jr., R.D., Titusville, and H. Clark Wright, Jr., of Warren.

A DINNER HONORING Miss Frances Schimmelfeng, executive director of Public Assistance who recently announced her retirement, was attended by board and other local officials at the YWCA Tuesday evening.

Among those present were Alexander C. Flick, Jr., president judge of Warren and Forest counties; Nelson Johnson, of the Warren State Hospital staff; Miss Marian Sleeman, newly appointed executive director; Mrs. George Frantz, board member; Gerald Newton, board president; Miss Schimmelfeng; and Anthony Valone, board member.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? In Democratic Party circles it could very well mean leadership. Joseph S. Clark, Jr., United States Senator from Pennsylvania, (left) and Robert E. Clark, Warren County Democratic Chairman, met briefly in Oil City Monday evening where the former delivered the principal address.

Later, Chairman Clark interviewed Senator Clark on the Kinzua Dam and state politics. The tape recording will be presented over Station WNAE on Sunday at 1:15 p.m.

How was YOUR '57 harvest?

Harvest time is a good time for all of us, including farmers, to check up on the "crops" we produced this year — and make our plans for a better harvest in 1958. Are there ways you can have more this time next year than you have now? Chances are, there are — and this Bank can probably help you find them. It will cost you nothing to consult with us — and it might pay you plenty. Let's do it tonight!

NEW BARRACKS. Jim Marshall of Tidioute had just finished sweeping off the top soil for the new Pennsylvania State police barracks near Warren when this was shot. Jim is at the right. He has the excavating job. The property will be owned by A. C. Benninger, of Tionesta, who will lease it to the state. Mr. Benninger, who also owns the Tionesta barracks, is second from the left. The man in white is Fred Jaun of Jaun Brothers, Tionesta, general contractor. Sergeant Buzzy Holmes is at the left. The site was purchased from Harry Barley, Conewango twp. justice of the peace, and is located on the east side of the three-lane, directly across from the Ford garage. The New York Central railroad tracks lie between it and the highway.

There will be an office, a report room, four bedrooms, and a basement garage which will house five cars. It will be ready in a few weeks.

BOWLING

The big man on the hardwood this week was Fred Aumer who had 627 in the American K of C. Right behind was Joe Suppa with 601 in the Commercial.

That ended the 600 scoring as damp weather softened up the maples. Slug Sterling hit 598 and Barney Senger 245 in the City loop. Frank Willard was good for 591 in the Industrial. Myer Pappalardo had 555 in the National K of C. Fred Henry led the Merchants with 553.

George Anderson paced the Junior Industrial with 548, Bill Rapp had 542 and 242 in the Metzger Wright circuit, Dan Shirk 533 in the Sylvania, George Gnage 513 in the Shop, and Rodney Rudolph 487 in the Arcade Junior.

Don Peterson topped the mixed bowlers during the week with a 510 in the Friday night loop. Mary Lowe had 501. In the Tuesday night league, John Carbon rolled 487 and Mildred Brindis hit 411.

Rita Miley led the women bowlers with a 222 and a 583 in the Ladies City league. Jaye Pappalardo had 531 in the same league. Vi Sterling hit 518 in the Ladies City loop and topped that two nights later with a 207 and a 527 in the Ladies Major. Addie Okruh hit 501 in the Major loop. Mary Walker was high in the Ladies Minor with 464 and Joyce Wingard's 446 topped Peg's league. Marie Heald's 408 was best in the Ladies Class C.

BUYERS' CORNER

THE 1958 MODELS

Starting this week, and continuing through the early part of November, the new cars from which we must choose for the next twelve months will make their entrance on the show room floors of the nation. Buick, preceded by Edsel a few weeks ago, and Rambler, open the 1958 parade.

The General Motor cars probably offer more change than most lines, though they continue to be basically the same. Most radical introduction is the air ride, which takes the place of springs. This is the ride which we thought would arrive a year ago, and so predicted. But the Detroit boys apparently decided they could stretch it out twelve months and lose no sales.

This is the kind of ride which has been found on trucks and busses. Used in a light car, if there are any light cars to be found, it should eliminate much rock and sway.

It also offers a means of escaping from deep mud or snow. The driver can raise the height of the car about five and a half inches. How much driving he can do at this higher point we do not know. But the choice is there at least for digging or driving out purposes.

As usual, many of the new features are there only if you pay extra. Inasmuch as the prices already are away out of reach of an average family which seriously budgets its income, the added 1958 features probably will be left off of many new cars at the request of the oppressed consumer.

Buick has air-cooled aluminum brake drums on the front wheels of all expensive models, and has added a Limited series in the prestige market. It has a radiant heater under the seat in addition to the other. But this also is optional, as is the defroster.

Chevrolet, hard-pressed by Ford last year, and probably topped by Ford on the production line by a very scant few thousand, is offering many of the General Motor features. It again is longer, lower, and costlier. It will have the air ride, if you want to pay extra. And we predict that it will give Ford a very rough time.

Chevrolet lacks the drive change which some predicted were due from that direction. It supposedly is experimenting with a front wheel drive assembly. But this isn't the year... if there ever is to be such a year.

Chrysler products will offer little basic change. They picked their new lines last year and will stay with them, smoothing up as they do along, and in this second year no doubt will step up their quality control. They already had topped the field in riding and steering comfort. General Motors will do little more than fend off the growing competition in this direction by its air ride.

Watch for a battle between Plymouth and Buick this year. Plymouth swamped the Buick last year and the GM make is out to end that trend. However, Plymouth, if smoothed up, may even stretch its climb into the direction of Chevrolet and Ford, though it will not reach their figures in 1958.

The Chrysler smoothing up changes will include such things as windshields which wrap around at the top, so that traffic lights can be seen without bending, but tinted to keep out the sun glare. And there will be a fender mirror controlled from the driver's seat, and a defroster on the rear window. All optional, no doubt.

Ford will join General Motors in the "ride" race and also will have air domes in place of springs on its Fairlane models if you want to pay the price. Its lines will be about the same, though smoothed up. Ford offered unusually fine lines last year and enjoyed much publicity from its hard-top convertible. Up will go the horsepower, with one 300 hp engine, and there will be four-barrel carburetion.

We have heard nothing from Studebaker, though a peek at new models suggests lines that remind us of the "swept wing" used by Dodge. However, this is not radical to Studebaker which has led most of the field when it comes to modern lines, and in improvements, such as the divided drive which permits you to drive out of a slippery spot if you can get one wheel on firm ground.

There will be no Nash or Hudson. The American Motor lines will be Rambler, Rebel, and Ambassador. These now can be seen at Emory Mahan's in North Warren.

There also is no low priced American car. At least there is no 1958 low priced car. And by 1958 we mean a car with 1958 advances. If you want to buy a standard car that has little more on it than a car did several years ago, you might find one under $2,500.

We would not call that low priced, when we note that foreign cars, even with a heavy duty, are selling for less than $2,000.

It is true that these foreign cars do not have many American conveniences. They are about 1948 or 1949 vintage in many ways. Maybe even 1942. They also are small, and therefore not as safe as the American two-ton jobs with which they will collide in life-taking accidents.

But they do not burn up 35 cents a gallon gasoline, and they are easy to park. While America eats up its parking space with more cars, it also reduces the number of parking places by putting out longer and wider cars, which also are so low that the driver must rise in his seat, or from it, to see where the wheels are.

The new cars are typical of our national problem. They cost too much for white collar workers, pensioners, school teachers, and even the average wage earner. But millions manage to have one by going into debt. If tight money as a means of controlling inflation puts millions out of work, the credit squeeze will pull out the rug.

Meanwhile, the annual arrival of new models will brighten eyes and pound pulses, though not as much as in years of bigger change. And the sale of foreign mites will boom.

Telephone people earn a half-million dollars a day, most of which is spent for goods and services in Pennsylvania

In the areas we serve, the 39,000 Pennsylvania Bell people, plus their families, are good customers of thousands of local businesses of every kind.

The combined salaries and wages of our employees are more than 177 million dollars a year—almost half a million dollars every day. They spend their money for the same things everybody does—homes, food, clothing, furniture, appliances, automobiles and automotive products, toys, entertainment, an occasional luxury.

And they spend most of it in their home towns, with their local merchants.

The telephone company itself is a big customer of local businesses

As a company, we make thousands of purchases every year from hundreds of small, medium and large businesses in the areas we serve throughout the state.

We buy furniture, typewriters and other office supplies, trucks, tires, oil, food, steel, aluminum, concrete, glass, paint, floor coverings, paper, printing and scores of other goods and services.

Our success is important to the economic well-being of Pennsylvania

All this makes it clear that the successful operation of our company is important not just to our employees and to investors in Bell System securities, but also to businesses throughout the state—both those from which telephone people buy and those from which we buy as a company.

In one way or another, to a large degree or small, directly or indirectly, telephone people and the telephone company contribute to the economic well-being of almost every Pennsylvanian.

JUST AHEAD

"JOHNS HOPKINS FILE 7", an ABC show, will "star" Asian influenza on its November 3 program. Featured will be films of the virus and an explanation of how the vaccine works.

"ANNIE GET YOUR GUN", one of the all-time musical successes of both stage and screen, becomes a two-hour Thanksgiving Eve treat, November 27 at 8:30 p. m. on NBC-TV channels. Mary Martin and John Raitt will star in the major NBC colorcast.

"PIED PIPER OF HAMELIN", a 90-minute NBC "special", will be presented Tuesday, November 26 at 7:30 p. m. Kay Starr and Van Johnson will star in the musical TV version. The classic legend, popularized by Robert Browning's poem, tells the 13th century tale of how a mysterious piper is hired to rid the town of Hamelin of its large number of rats. Music for the telecast is based on Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite".

"TEXACO COMMAND APPEARANCE" in its second show of the season, Saturday, November 23, 10-11 p. m., will have Ethel Barrymore as honored star. The NBC-TV show will be in the form of a "celebration of the theatre", with each performance by a name star coinciding with a facet of Miss Barrymore's 58-year stage and screen career.

"HALLMARK HALL OF FAME" brings viewers another show on November 17, 5:30-7 p. m. "On Borrowed Time" is the tender story of a little boy who has been orphaned by an automobile accident. Pud much prefers to live with his elderly grandparents, played by Ed Wynn and Beulah Bondi, but is is apparent that they have not long to live. Margaret Hamilton has the role of meddling Aunt Demetria who wants to take over Pud's upbringing. Mr. Brink, played by Claude Rains, is a kind of heavenly messenger who is restrained from carrying off the grandparents only because he becomes stranded in a treetop.

"GENERAL MOTORS 50TH ANNIVERSARY SHOW" is a 2-hour NBC-TV special scheduled for Sunday evening, November 17. The star list includes the names of Don Ameche, Pat Boone, Eddie Bracken, Kirk Douglas, Helen Hayes, Patrice Munsel, Cyril Ritchard and Dinah Shore. Others will be announced as the date nears.

CBS TELEVISION will launch a new hour-long Sunday entertainment series on November 3 at 5 p. m.

Called "The Seven Lively Arts", the first program will be S. J. Perelman's witty and penetrating review of "The Changing Ways of Love" in America, from the '20s to the present.

Piper Laurie, Rip Torn, Jason Robards Jr., and Dick York will have starring roles in sequence chronicling America's romantic patterns as affected by movies, stage, popular songs, advertising, the Kinsey Report, novels and magazines.

"The Nick Adams Stories", based on Ernest Hemingway's short stories, will be dramatized November 10 and the Seven Lively Arts production for Sunday, November 17 will be "The Proclaimers", the story of evangelists in America from Billy Sunday to Billy Graham. "PROJECTION 58" will be NBC-TV's end of the year review of significant events of 1957 and forecast of news trends for the coming year. Twelve NBC News correspondents will be featured.

PERSONALITIES

KATE SMITH is returning to radio for a regular daytime program on the Mutual Broadcasting System. After many years in radio, she deserted the medium in 1950 to spend the next three years in television.

BING CROSBY held out against television longer than most of the prominent oldtimers. He made his first big TV appearance on the recent "Edsel Show" and CBS is planning to bring him back for an hour-long musical show on December 11. CBS also plans to televise for the first time Mr. Crosby's invitational golf tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif. in January, probably for an hour's coverage on a Sunday afternoon. Beginning next Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Crooner Crosby will be heard in a weekly half-hour program on CBS Radio.

He also is heard several times each week for Ford Motor Company in five-minute radio spots on CBS.

MIKE TODD spent 90 minutes and who knows how many thousands of dollars last Thursday night publicizing and promoting Mike Todd. At the same time, on another network, William Warfield gave a beautiful and reverent portrayal of "De Lawd" in Marc Connelly's "The Green Pastures". Mr. Warfield and the Biblical fantasy have our vote for one of the best things television has ever given a living-room audience.

GOING, GOING . . .

STRIKE IT RICH may be dropped by its sponsor, Colgate-Palmolive Co. The program originated on radio in 1947 and has been a television regular since 1951. It is seen on CBS at 11:30 a. m. weekdays.

SPORTS SCENE

BOXING - Two New York lightweights, Paoli Rosi of the Bronx and Johnny Busso of Brooklyn, trade blows in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Gardens Friday night, October 25 at 10 p. m., covered by NBC-TV and Radio on Cavalcade of Sports. Busso is ranked fifth and Rosi sixth among lightweight contenders.

RED BARBER will corner Coach Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants for an interview following the fight. Howell will discuss the team's chances to repeat as National Football League champions.

FOOTBALL - An NCAA regional game will be televised Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. on the NBC network.

In pro football, the Cleveland Browns will play the Chicago Cards at Chicago on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. on the CBS network.

The Washington Redskins will tangle with the New York Giants at New York on Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. WGR and WSEE televise the event in this area.

SPIRITUAL HOBBY

If Hollywood and others who attempt Biblical or passion stories would put as much into it as has a Milwaukee school teacher, the casting would be much more in character than it is today. Sune Richards saw a man on a bus who looked like Simon. She was so moved to take his picture that she followed him and asked him to pose. He amazed her by his knowledge of this particular disciple and asked her to come to his farm in the spring when he would pose with one of his small goats.

This started a long search which has resulted in a collection of beautiful colored pictures, each posed for her by men who match the description in the Bible. It took many years to completely satisfy her in every detail. In fact, some of the men had to grow beards. For others she made them.

One was an Arab engineering student whose home is in Nazareth. Others included an artist, a tv technician, a minister, and a sewing machine salesman. They came from all walks of life, even as the originals.

The most difficult to find was Judas. She finally found a man who understood the character and was willing to pose expressively.

If this can be called a hobby it certainly has paid off richly. It was one requiring much study, and from which the participant gained much knowledge of her subject. As a result she has become a disciple, and is studying for the ministry.

Mrs. Richards says, "I wanted to do the disciples as they were when Jesus found them, when they were ordinary men and women like us. Jesus recognized what they had not realized themselves--their inner power. I thought perhaps my portraits could help men and women of today realize they could become disciples of Christ, too."

We believe that Mrs. Richards has brought much to us through her efforts. The portraits are inspiring, and she with her deep-seated faith is bound to give much to others.

And so another spare time pleasure has done much more than fill the leisure hours.

MEDIOCRE PROGRAMS

At least half the television critics are not expressing pleasure with the new programs which now are starting their full season. In fact the criticism has been so heavy that we have a letter from Bob Sarnoff, of NBC, in which he takes issue with most of these opinions.

The jist of his stand is that it is unfair to judge a season's quality on the basis of the early shows. They should improve as they progress and he claims that this is exactly what they are trying to do during the early fall period.

Our reaction to the fall television programs is that the theme is mediocre and repetitious. To emphasize this reaction is the performance of such leading men as Bob Hope and others in his class. Their lines and chatter are so bad that they don't measure up to even a good reshaw.

These top-rank actors seem to be having a great time among themselves, laughing at their own jokes, or at least snickering at the impossible corn they are expected to carry off. If they think it is that bad why are they doing it?

Of course this may be their way of taking the audience into the act, with an "ain't this just a crazy idea and aren't we having fun together" thought. The audience is supposed to feel so good about being a part of the show that it overlooks how bad the thing is, while sympathetically retaining its adulation for the performers and passing the blame onto an unknown somebody who goofed "all of us" up.

As for us we are tired of seeing night club floor shows, cowboys, and night club floor shows. When we see a spectacular in the place of Sullivan, we hope to see a floor show better than Sullivan's. In fact we hope not to see a floor show.

What we fail to understand is why educational programs must be limited to the educational network, which millions of us cannot tune in on our sets. NBC now has a ten-week program that sounds fascinating to us, and we are not so vain as to think we are the only highbrow in the American audience.

These are broadcast each week day, from 6 to 6:30, and are interconnected over the educational tv stations by way of NBC's network facilities. On Mondays the program is "IGY: A Small Planet Takes a Look at Itself." This is a wide-angle view of the International Geophysical Year. And don't tell us a sponsor couldn't get viewers on that one.

On Tuesday the subject is mathematics, with Clifton Fadiman, and its presentation sounds inviting to us.

Arts and The Gods will be done on Wednesday. This is the only program ever to originate in the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts, and will deal with art inspired by Greek mythology.

"Survival: the story of man, resources, and civilization" will be seen on Thursdays.

"Camera on Washington, a study of the executive branch of the government" is the Friday subject. Now tell us that wouldn't go right now!

But the average viewer must settle for bang-bangs or burlesque in wraps. And the viewer, of course, will continue to be average if given nothing to enrich his tastes or to broaden his knowledge.

Meanwhile, he will be sold soap to clean his outsides while leading personalities lend their influence to sell him cigarettes with which to foul up his innards. Sorry, Bob, but the critics have been given meat to chew, and by you.

However, the television set will continue in our house. It pays for itself if it does no more than take us to one major event a week, a place where we would go if we had the time and money. Though there can be much done to improve television and its programs, we also sympathize with the tv producers' problem of pleasing many who depend on it as their only source of entertainment and information, sixteen hours a day.

You are much to blame yourself if your interests are so limited that require the tv glare to fill all your play time hours. You deserve being a little bored.

One of the reasons we go to so much trouble to provide you with a complete television schedule is so that you as a viewer can be a little choosy. And if you are selective and don't forget there are good books, magazines, newspapers, and hobbies in which you can participate, and do not lean on television for the complete support of your entertainment and illumination, there is much to be found that is good, and there is a fair variety.

Your demands will improve television, but it was not designed to be the core of your life.
